

Friday, April 10, 2015

RE: Week of Monday, April 13, 2015

Just a few things...

- Since we just completed our read aloud, Emily's Runaway Imagination, our meaning and spelling test is Monday, April 13.
- To go along with our current social studies topic, "Our Country's History", our next read aloud will be Our Strange New Land: Elizabeth's Diary, Jamestown, VA, 1609. The new vocabulary and word skill lists will be handed out on Monday. You may also find the lists posted on weebly.
- "Intent to Return" forms went home on Monday, so if you have not turned in yours, please do as soon as possible.
- The Harlem Wizards are returning to Valpo on Friday, April 24. Ticket order forms went home on Monday. Presale ticket sales are happening now through next Friday, April 17. The cost for each ticket is $10 in which $2 is returned to Cooks. Also, the students who turn in a ticket order will be entered into a drawing for some official Harlem Wizard souvenirs. Tickets sold the day of the event will be $12 at the door.
- April "20 Together" calendars went home a week ago.
- As a reminder, the May 5th election for Center Township residents will pose two referenda (ONLY). One question regards the VCS construction plan to make our schools more safe, energy efficient, and more accommodating to 21st learning. The second question addresses the improvement of programs to better meet students' needs socially, emotionally, and academically. If you would like more information or would like to help with this process, please go to www.schoolsworthsaving.com

Enjoy your weekend.